SJS HOMECOMING AT FARM?

Council Abolishes AMS; Votes To Give PSBA $100

The Student Council officially approved the abolishment of the Associated Men's Student organization at the weekly meeting yesterday afternoon after AMS President Dave Pantoskey asked that the organization be dissolved because "It no longer fulfills the function for which it was originated."

Pantoskey

The AMS was organized in Spring quarter, 1951, for the purpose of supervising the college intramural sports program, according to records on file in the office of the Dean of Men.

In a letter to the council from the Personnel Deans, the Deans accepted the AMS request for dissolution "with regret" and expressed the hope that sometime a substantial number of students would feel the need for a similar organization and AMS would be reorganized.

In other council action $100 was appropriated to help San Francisco State cover expenses for the Pacific Student Body Assn. convention May 12.

ASB President John Aitken reported to the council that the northern California colleges, including SJS, had agreed to support the function. Since $400 was set aside for the conference, $300 of which will cover SJS expenses, the remaining $100 was sent to San Francisco State.

Dr. Hildebrand Speaks Tonight At Ceremonies

"Scientists and People" will be the topic of a talk tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Concert Hall by Dr. Joel H. Hildebrand, professor emeritus of chemistry, University of California.

The talk will be the closing event in the installation of the Sigma Xi club at San Jose State.

The general public is invited to hear Dr. Hildebrand's lecture. He is eminently qualified to speak on the subject of science, being president-elect of the American Chemical Society and a member of many important scientific organizations.

Dr. Hildebrand has done extensive research on the use of helium gas for the prevention of divers' "bends" and first suggested the use of a mixture of helium and oxygen for this purpose.

He holds degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and has won many honors for lectures before scientific groups.

The installation ceremonies will be followed at 5:45 p.m. by a dinner for club members and their guests at Lou's Village.

Officers of the club are Dr. Albert Castro, president; Dr. Paul Freeman, vice president; and Dr. William Graf, secretary.

Dean Benz Explains Fraternity 'And-Or' Eligibility Conflict

In a written statement, Dean of Men Stanley C. Benz, gave his answer yesterday to the much disputed conflict about changes that were made in fraternity eligibility rules. The statement read as follows:

"The requirements for initiation of new fraternity men originally stated on March 9 were revised on April 2 because an adjustment needed to be made in fairness to men already pledged but not as yet initiated.

Justice Urges All Candidates To File Early

All candidates for ASB positions are urged to file their applications early to facilitate checking and clearing through the Student Court, it was stressed by Chief Justice Stan Croonquist yesterday. Croonquist pointed out that a copy of the ASB constitution, which contains the duties of all offices, may be secured without charge in the ASB office. The deadline for filing applications for petitions is Tuesday, April 20, at 4 p.m.

Regarding the qualifications for the class representatives, the candidate must not be more than six units deficient in his class. That is, freshmen, to be eligible for the Sophomore representative job, must have completed a minimum of 25 units.

Sophomores, to be eligible for the Junior representative position, must have completed 69 units; and juniors, to be qualified for the Senior representative office, must have completed 114 units.

The ASB elections will be held May 6 and 7 in the Inner Quad.

Manager OKs PA

Students campaigning for ASB offices in the coming elections will be allowed to use the public address system only between classes and not during hours when classes are in session. Pete Miller, manager of the equipment, said yesterday.

Use of the equipment in the Fall quarter election while classes were being held caused the college administration to make a rule that prohibits use of the loudspeaker during classes.

"The IFC, Fraternity Advisers and Personnel Deans all agreed on the original requirements but at the end of the Winter quarter it became apparent that the date when the new requirements were to go into effect needed to be extended. Therefore, in order to solve the immediate problem a modification of the requirements was made for the Spring quarter only.

"Last week a joint committee of the IFC and Administration agreed that in order to be initiated any student pledged after Sept. 1, 1954, 1) must be on clear standing, 2) must be a regularly enrolled full-time student, carrying a minimum of twelve (12) units at the time of initiation, 3) must have earned a 1.0 average the quarter preceding his initiation, AND must have a 1.0 cumulative average."

AWS Explains Election Rules

Requirements for Associated Women Students' offices were explained yesterday by AWS President Darlene Clayton to the AWS weekly meeting group.

Candidates for AWS presidency must have served one year on the AWS cabinet and have at least a 1.2 grade point average.

Other AWS offices are open to all women students, Miss Clayton explained.

Following the general business meeting, a cider and do-nut party was held. Julia Ann Bennett and Betty Wiser were co-chairmen. Entertainment was provided by various members.

AWS will sponsor a lollipop sale on campus Wednesday with proceeds going to their general fund, Miss Clayton said.

Grid Slate Might Force Celebration to Stanford

The 1954 Homecoming football game may be held at Stanford. Vern Perry, Homecoming Board Chairman, disclosed yesterday that the board is "backed against the wall" so far as games suitable for homecoming are concerned, and stated that both the Athletic department and the Alumni department were strongly in favor of the Stanford game, scheduled for November 13.

VERN PERRY

A meeting of the Homecoming board will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Student Union to consider the problem, according to Perry.

"We know it's a touchy situation, that's why we want to have the students attend the meeting," Perry said. "Their opinions will be heard out and carefully weighed," he assured.

Perry stated that the board was forced to consider a game away from home because the three home games scheduled for the 1954 season all were "unsuitable."

Perry cited these reasons against the three home games:

Sparta will play Utah State, the first game of the season, on September 18, before school officially begins. This does not allow any time for organization and eliminates consideration of the game.

Fresno State is scheduled for November 19, but the fact that this is a night game would eliminate some, if not all of the traditional pre-game festivities, such as the parade, variety show, and bonfire which are held on Friday night before the homecoming game, which traditionally is held on Saturday afternoon.

Chances of moving pre-game events ahead to suit the Friday night game are practically nil because downtown merchants and the alumni are against it.

Fresno also ranks low in attraction because there is no strong rivalry between the two schools.

The last home game against New Mexico on Nov. 27 is not suitable because it will be held on Thanksgiving weekend. Many students (Continued on Page 2)

Mexican Consulate Urges Friendship Among Neighbors

Stressing the friendship between the United States and Mexico, Adolfo G. Dominguez, Mexican consul-general from Los Angeles, spoke to more than 400 persons in the Concert Hall yesterday as a part of the Pan-American Day program at San Jose State College.

Dominguez' address was on the "Ties and Tensions Between the United States and Mexico." He stated that friendship between the two nations exists not only by the will of God but also by the will of the respective people.

Dominguez stated that the USA and Mexico can live peacefully together on the basis of mutual assistance. He reviewed the intervention by the United States in Latin America between 1890 and 1930. He said that the tensions that use to exist between the two countries has disappeared and that both countries are now tolerant of each other.

Comparing education in the United States and Mexico, Dominguez said, in an interview after his address, that the USA puts too much stress on US history and not enough on world history. He stated also that more foreign language courses should be required as this is the key to friendship between countries.

Before the address, folk melodies of Peru were sung by Miss Sue Ehman, former SJS student, and her mother, Mrs. John D. Ehman.

SJS Employs 600

San Jose State College, largest state college in California, employs about 600 persons as teachers, administrators, clerical and maintenance workers.

This information is from a report made by Roger C. Monroe, personnel officer of the State Department of Education.

Group Tours SJS

Thirty-nine students from 22 foreign countries visited the campus yesterday afternoon and were taken on a tour by Lowell C. Pratt, director of public relations. The students, most of whom attend Pasadena City College, were guests of the San Jose Rotary Club for lunch and several of them presented a program of talks, songs and dances. They are on a week's tour of northern California.

Test Requests End Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the deadline for petitions requesting credit by examination, Dr. Harrison F. Heath, testing officer, announced yesterday.

Petitions requesting credit by examination are always due at the end of the third week of each quarter, Dr. Heath said.

He explained that these examinations are given to students who have accomplished what would be the equivalent to San Jose State courses, but who have not received credit for them.

Petitions are available in Dr. Heath's office, Room 116.

Those persons who might be eligible to take an examination for credit are those who attend private, unaccredited schools or had on-the-job training.

"These tests will be at least as hard as a final examination in the subject on which the student is being tested," Dr. Heath said.

No one will be allowed to take one of these tests unless they can prove they have had equivalent preparation and are approved by the head of the department where they are seeking credit.

SAC Will Make Award Choices

The Social Affairs Committee executive council will meet to make awards nominations next Tuesday in the Student Union, according to SAC Secretary Bobby Snaith.

At the regular SAC meeting held in the Student Union yesterday, the committee decided not to make the three representatives at large additions to the council that were suggested earlier in the year.

The Big Noise

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In the past few weeks I have watched the debating in our State Legislature with some interest, as undoubtedly most other students have.

What I refer to, of course, is the fixing of a limit on the number of students that may attend this school.

Since there has been so much said against the Strayer report and no one seems to be defending it, I assumed the idea of limiting enrollments was on the way out. I thought that our administration would object too much if a limit was affixed again.

This, I now realize, is too much to ask of the administration.

Because of their precarious position as to income and employment, they cannot press the point too far.

Therefore, the only ones that can make a big noise and force the issue are the students. We can't be fired nor do we face the (un) employment pressures of our administration.

The California State College system is supposed to be a leader in an experiment in inexpensive education for everyone. Now, the basic attitude seems to be—"fit the students to the school instead of the school to the students."

Why is this? At this point I could go into hysterics, this seeming to be the custom of the most recent contributions to this column.

But I really don't think any sinister forces are on the loose, nor do I feel plotted against.

The reason, then, is that our Congressmen, being human, are thinking of their jobs too. The only thing they will (or seem to) react to is pressure.

Let's have a little pressure. Who is more qualified to apply it than the principals involved? Here is something for the Student Council to work on, finally. Here is something that affects all the students.

It would be interesting, if not downright amusing, to see what reaction a little noise of this sort would bring.

Sincerely yours, with apologies to any English teacher that might read this.

Two kindergarten-primary education majors, Nina Teeslink and Ruth Oakleaf, will represent Alpha Chi Epsilon at the annual convention of the Assn. for Childhood Education International at St. Paul, Minn., April 18-23.

The theme will be "Effective Education for all Children," according to Miss Mabel Crumby, Alpha Chi Epsilon adviser. Delegates from 11 foreign countries will be in attendance.

Miss Crumby stated that junior students were chosen because with one more year, they can develop what they will have learned at the convention.

With the ACEI convention ending April 23, the girls will attend the National Council on Elementary Science, April 24, before returning.

Yearbooks Still Are Available In Outer Quad, Staff States

Yesterday, 230 copies of the 1953-1954 edition of La Torre, college yearbook, were sold in the Outer Quad, according to La Torre staff members.

La Torre will continue to be available in the Graduate Manager's office and at various campus locations during the coming weeks, Bill Johansen, co-business manager, stated.

Included in the $6 yearbook purchase price is a 45 rpm record of campus chatter taped at various college activities during the past year.

For its cover design, the 304-page La Torre is featuring three full colored scenes of the college, those of the tower, the Library Arch, and the Outer Quad.

Sales booths can be identified easily by the presence of a six foot wood and cardboard replica of "The La Torre Special," the record included with the yearbook.

ROTC Names Three Cadets As Outstanding

Cadets Samuel M. Yates, John P. Jordan and Michael J. Kubas of the San Jose State ROTC unit will be presented with the Distinguished Military Cadets award at the annual inspection of ranks at noon tomorrow.

A Sixth Army inspection team, led by Col. V. R. Smith, will conduct the ceremonies, according to Col. John C. Rogers, professor of military science and tactics.

The formal review and presentation of the distinguished students will officially open the new drill grounds at 7th and San Fernando Sts.

ABOUT JULIE

Word comes from the East that Julie Menendez, San Jose State boxing coach, really made a hit with the other boxing coaches at last week's NCAA tournament. This is borne out by the fact that Julie was elected third vice president of the Coaches' Assn.

ABOUT THE TOURNAMENT

Coach Menendez says the NCAA tournament was his fourth and the competition was just as fierce as ever. He lists future tournament hosts as Idaho State in Pocatello, University of Wisconsin at Madison and Maryland University at Baltimore.

TREAT FOR TRACKMEN

Coach Bud Winter has a treat in store for his track team at the "morale meeting" scheduled for Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in S210. Bud has arranged to show the finals of the NCAA Track and Field Championships of last year. The Audio-Visual department is cooperating with Bud on this.

THANKS, BOB

There's always paper work going on in the coaches' office in the Men's gym, but recently Head Football Coach Bob Bronzan and Assistants Bill Perry and Gene Menges have been doing more than their share. They have complete rundowns on the boys who will perform in spring practice, beginning next Monday. We interrupted Bob to see if we could get something for the column. Here's what the genial coach came up with. There are five Hawaiian boys on the roster—the Hiram brothers, Pat and Roy, a transfer from Denver University who plays halfback, named Melvin Soong, End Mervin Lopes and Lineman Charley Kaaihue.

Eight members of the squad are married. Eight have put in their military service. Two boys have come to San Jose State from out-of-state. These are Quarterback Bud Erickson, who hails from the state of Washington, and a South Carolinian named Eli Gardiner, who performs at right tackle.

HOW ABOUT IT, CLASS OF '54?

As a member in good standing of the Class of '54 we've been wondering what the Senior Council is going to give the school as a gift. When we ran into class Vice Prexy Jim Walsh the other day, we asked him. He said nothing has been decided upon. We're going to beat the drums for something that we know is needed. It's a stand for the officials at the Spartan track meets. Once this season a Gilbert and Sullivan episode occurred when the officials missed placing three men in the 100 yard dash. They picked the order of finish in a "by guess-and-by-golly" fashion after a 45-minute hassle. With an officials' stand such things could be avoided, so that's the gift that gets our vote.

NICE GOIN', CHUCK AND JAY

Two new college records were set by San Jose swimmers Tuesday. Jay Flood splashed the 300-yard individual medley in 3:55 flat to break the old record set in 1947 by Rod Rudloff. Rod's time was 3:55.1. Chuck White of the Frosh set a record in the same event for yearlings. Chuck's time was 3:56.9.

Spartan 9-Run Splurge Fails To Win Game

A nine-run rally in the ninth inning fell short of the needed tallies when San Jose State varsity baseball team lost to Alameda Naval Air Station, 13 to 12, in Alameda yesterday.

The Spartans rallied in the ninth for nine runs on eight hits, aided by one Helicat error. Up until that time the Spartans had been almost helpless before the slants of the Helicat pitchers.

Ron Walters was the big gun in the Golden Raider attack with three for six, including a triple in the ninth to drive across the Spartans' twelfth run.

With sudden swiftness, Alameda hit one run in the first inning, added three more in the second and four more in the third before the Spartans could hit the scoring column.

San Jose State scored their first run behind the lead of the other Spartan big gun, Bill Anderson. Anderson led off the fifth frame with a triple and loafed home on Jack Richards' outfield fly. In the sixth the Spartans added one more when Dick Brady scored on Ron Palma's walk with the bases loaded.

The Helicats added one in the last of the fifth and two in the seventh to take a commanding 11-7 margin at the end of seven innings.

Mal Leal led off the eighth with a double and scored on Anderson's double. The Helicats added two runs in the last half of the eighth off reliever Reese Dick which proved to be the winning margin.

In the ninth the ceiling fell in on the Helicats as the Spartans started a tremendous rally in which they could do nothing wrong! Richards led off with a single; Don Visconti dragged a bunt single; Walters hit a single into right field that was bobbled so that two runs scored; Brady singled. Lou Gambello doubled, scoring Brady; Anderson drew a walk; Dick helped his own cause with a timely double driving in two runs. Richards walked the second time around, and Visconti tagged a double into left field; then Walters unloaded a triple into center field to put the Spartans only one run behind with two out in the ninth. But the luck couldn't last and Brady grounded out to end the game and one of the most exciting last-inning rallies of this or any season.

'Stinko' Divoteers To Play Title Meet

After his players' exhibition Tuesday against Santa Clara (they lost, 18½-8½), Golf Coach Walt McPherson refused to make any prediction as to what his sextet will do in the Northern Intercollegiate Championships which are to be held at Stanford this weekend.

Coach McPherson said his team looked "stinko" Tuesday and all he was willing to say was that his men will be present on the Stanford golf course.

Low man for the Spartans in the Santa Clara debacle was Glenn Dooley who shot a 73.

Winter Expects Fast Contests On Indian Oval

Coach Bud Winter said yesterday that the Stanford All-Comers track meet slated for Saturday at Palo Alto will be worthwhile for any track fan. He predicted that some of the finest times in the United States will be posted Saturday.

According to the coach, Spartans who have the best chances of winning first places are hurdler Ed Kreyenhagen and two-miler Don Hubbard. Coach Winter expects the relay team to make a good showing in the mile as well.

Former Spartan greats who are expected to perform in the All-Comers meet are Lang Stanley and Walt Burnett who will be representing the Fort Ord team; vaulter George Mattos, high jumper Herman Wyatt and distance runner Bob McMullen who are representing the Santa Clara Youth Center. Gene Rains, who runs for SCCYC, will perform in the mile. These men all hold San Jose State College records in their specialties.

Coach Winter disclosed that six members of his squad won milkshakes from him last Saturday.

Bob McMullen, Frosh coach, also is expecting to enter several of his men Saturday.

Monday Deadline Nears For Leadership Camp

Applications are still available for the Camp Miniwanca leadership training camp, but Monday's deadline is approaching fast, Shunji Ito, Campus committee chairman warned yesterday.

Applications must be turned in to Ito by Monday morning. The Camp committee, composed of student leaders who have attended the camp, will be held that afternoon to consider applications.

Approximately 10 applications have been taken out and one has been turned in Ito said.

The camp, held at Shelby, Mich., is an annual event to which schools send potential leaders for leadership preparatory training. Two boys and two girls will be chosen from SJS applicants to attend the camps, Ito said.

He emphasized the influence of the camp on potential campus leaders and urged anyone interested, who is a sophomore or freshman and not yet 21 years of age, to apply.

Ito pointed out that such campus leaders as Bill Eckert, current ASB vice president; Mary Ellen Bailey, junior justice; Hank Ramp, past president of Spartan Shields and student council representative; Don Abinante, Soph class vice president and Tom Evans, past ASB president, are just a few of the students who have attended the camp.

Camp applications may be picked up in the ASB office or the office of the Dean of Women, Ito said.

Job Mart

Business administration or merchandising graduates or alumni, interested in a career in retailing, will be given a chance to be interviewed today when the H. C. Capwell Co., of Oakland, will be on the campus.

They would like students for merchandising and junior executive positions, and they have a training program which starts in the summer.

A Colusa County Girl Scout and Woodland Girl Scout Council representative will be in the Placement office today from 1 to 5 p.m. to interview persons for summer camp counseling positions.

They want unit leaders and assistants, waterfront director and assistant, food manager, cook, business manager, cook's helper and handyman.

Guests To Speak About Camp Work

Students interested in camp counseling are invited to attend a meeting of the group today from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Room 8 of the Women's gym.

Types of camps will be the topic with guest speakers including Dr. J. Wendell Howe, dean of private camps, and Elwood Mitchell, supervisor of physical education and school camps for Santa Clara County.

Discussion chairman is John P. Harville, assistant professor of biology and science education.

Prof Aids Revision

Professor L. C. Newby, Modern Language head, announced yesterday that he is assisting the Encyclopedia Britannica in revising a multi-lingual dictionary.

The dictionary will contain the English equivalents of words in Swedish and Yiddish.

To Discuss Meet

Members of Alpha Eta Rho will meet today at 7:15 p.m. in E106 to continue planning for their air meet to be held the third week in May, according to Nick M. Milichewich, aeronautics instructor.
